

About the Course

Welcome to BTA201 - Level 2, Community-Based Behavioral Threat Assessment. This course builds upon the knowledge and information gained in BTA101 and BTA102.

Participants in this course will take away:

- An understanding of a multi-disciplinary, multi-agency community-based preventive threat assessment and management system (called Level 2) designed for educators, public mental health systems, juvenile justice services, law enforcement, and other youth serving agencies
- A working template to adapt that system to the existing resources of your community
- A blueprint of the steps and developmental procedures necessary to implement that system
- Complete training on the use of Level 2 protocols for violence prevention and intervention with youth along with an understanding of the concepts and research that support the questions and the process
- A review of the rules of confidentiality (FERPA and HIPAA)
- Case studies that illustrate the use of the Level 2, collaborative community assessment and prevention system
